Terrain

In the sprint competition the ability to combine individual orienteering techniques with a speedy execution will be crucial. On Saturday fluent progression will be at the heart of the performance. In the long distance competition the forms of the terrain will determine the best routes and the ascents and descents will challenge the physical condition of the competitors. Good route choices will be essential.

Riding off track is allowed.

Punching system

The EmiTag punching system is used in the competition. Registrations should include competitor information including individual EmiTag number. For anyone who does not list an Emi number, the organizers will reserve a rental EmiTag that will be available from the info-desk of the competition for 8 € (payed in cash).
